PROPOSED WATER TREATMENT WORKS AT MILNGAVIE

Councillor McElhill introduced Mr Kenny Naylor, Business and Community Liaison Manager, Scottish Water to the Committee.

Mr Naylor then gave a presentation on the proposed £100 million water treatment works at Mingavie Reservoirs which was the subject of a planning application that was due to be considered by East Dunbartonshire Council on 25 February 2003.

It was noted that approximately 8,500 people in the Whitecrock, Linnvale and Drumry areas of Clydebank received their water supplies from the existing Milngavie Water Works which, if the planning application was successful, would be replaced and upgraded to meet European and UK standards particularly for the removal of cryptosporidium and other micro-organisms.

Mr Naylor made reference to the fact that this was a second application, as a previous application for planning permission for replacement water treatment works had been refused. Mr Naylor then outlined various changes which had been made in relation to the proposed project in an effort to ensure that all environmental concerns were alleviated and the amended application would be given approval.

Councillor McElhill thanked Mr Naylor for his interesting presentation. Mr Naylor then answered questions from members of the Committee and a member of the public who was in attendance. It was thereafter agreed that a letter be sent to East Dunbartonshire Council on behalf of the Area Committee expressing support for the proposed new water treatment works.

After discussion it was agreed that a grant of £1,000 be approved, which was the maximum permissible in terms of current Council policy on applications for local grants administered by Area Committees. It was noted, however, that having regard to the decision which was taken at the Council meeting on 29 January 2003 with respect to the administration of applications for local grants by Area Committees, it would be acceptable for the organisation to submit a further application for a grant for the balance of £400.

In this connection a copy of a letter of response which had been received from the Manager of the Clyde Shopping Centre was submitted for information.
